

MEDIA RELEASEHCF wins two Australasian Reporting Awards

Sydney, 19 June 2013 – Not-for-profit health fund HCF has again been recognised in the Australasian Reporting Awards (ARA), for its excellence in annual reporting. HCF received both a Gold Award for its Annual Report and a Special Award in the online reporting category, for the best online annual report in Australia (not-for-profit).

This achievement brings HCF's total number of gold ARA awards to 15, while it has been recognised as having one of Australia's best online reports every year since 2010.

ARA is a not-for profit organisation which promotes effective and transparent communication by Australian enterprises, helping improve and refine Australia's annual reporting standards. Award entrants benchmark their annual reports against ARA's stringent annual reporting criteria.

HCF's continued success in the awards reflects the fund's commitment to stakeholder accountability, member service and clear communication. It also demonstrates the effort made by all parts of the organisation towards corporate transparency.
